Monday, 26th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

10:00 Session 1

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 2
Sessions 2 and 3 will be broken up into two groups which will run in parallel.

Session 2.1 (F103)
- Yipeng Liu & Qihai Huang – “University capability as micro-foundation for Triple Helix model: Cultivating university capability or attracting talent?”
- Marina van Geenhuizen – “User Groups as Partners in Triple Helix Interaction: The Case of Living Labs in Health Innovation”
- Séverine Louvel – “Principal Investigators’ capacity to act as scientific entrepreneurs: intended and unintended consequences of science policy under the Triple Helix”

Session 2.2 (F305)
- James Cunningham – “At the Frontiers of Science and Research Commercialisation: Why Scientists Become or Choose to Become a Publicly Funded Principal Investigators”

17:30 Closing Remarks (F103)

19:30 Evening: Dinner at ‘Le 5’
Tuesday 27th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome Back (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

09:30 Session 3

Session 3.1 (F103)
- Conor O’Kane – “Translating publicly funded science: an examination of principal investigator – technology transfer office interactions”
- Corine Genet & Vincent Mangematin – “What remains in academia lab when entrepreneurs have left?”

Session 3.2 (F305)
- Maria Kim, Elisabeth Krull & Kenneth Husted – “Commercial practices for developing commercial orientation of PhD students”
- Nicolas Battard & Christelle Robin – “Transformation of the role of scientists: The rise of project-based organising in science”
- Will Geoghegan, Paul Ryan & Rachel Hilliard – “The Innovative Capabilities that Firms Develop from University/Industry Collaboration”

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 4 (F103)
- Georg Reischauer – “Versatile Boundaries: Managing the Integration of Triple Helix Organizations”

17:00 Closing Remarks
Monday, 26th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

10:00 Session 1

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 2
Sessions 2 and 3 will be broken up into two groups which will run in parallel.

Session 2.1 (F103)
- Yipeng Liu & Qihai Huang – “University capability as micro-foundation for Triple Helix model: Cultivating university capability or attracting talent?”
- Marina van Geenhuizen – “User Groups as Partners in Triple Helix Interaction: The Case of Living Labs in Health Innovation”
- Séverine Louvel – “Principal Investigators’ capacity to act as scientific entrepreneurs: intended and unintended consequences of science policy under the Triple Helix”

Session 2.2 (F305)
- James Cunningham – “At the Frontiers of Science and Research Commercialisation: Why Scientists Become or Choose to Become a Publicly Funded Principal Investigators”

17:30 Closing Remarks (F103)

19:30 Evening: Dinner at ‘Le 5’
Tuesday 27th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome Back (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

09:30 Session 3

Session 3.1 (F103)

- Conor O’Kane – “Translating publicly funded science: an examination of principal investigator – technology transfer office interactions”
- Corine Genet & Vincent Mangematin – “What remains in academia lab when entrepreneurs have left?”

Session 3.2 (F305)

- Maria Kim, Elisabeth Krull & Kenneth Husted – “Commercial practices for developing commercial orientation of PhD students”
- Nicolas Battard & Christelle Robin – “Transformation of the role of scientists: The rise of project-based organising in science”
- Will Geoghegan, Paul Ryan & Rachel Hilliard – “The Innovative Capabilities that Firms Develop from University/Industry Collaboration”

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 4 (F103)

- Georg Reischauer – “Versatile Boundaries: Managing the Integration of Triple Helix Organizations”

17:00 Closing Remarks
PROGRAM
Micro-foundations of the Triple Helix Workshop

Monday, 26th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

10:00 Session 1

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 2
Sessions 2 and 3 will be broken up into two groups which will run in parallel.

Session 2.1 (F103)
- Yipeng Liu & Qihai Huang – “University capability as micro-foundation for Triple Helix model: Cultivating university capability or attracting talent?”
- Marina van Geenhuizen – “User Groups as Partners in Triple Helix Interaction: The Case of Living Labs in Health Innovation”
- Séverine Louvel – “Principal Investigators’ capacity to act as scientific entrepreneurs: intended and unintended consequences of science policy under the Triple Helix”

Session 2.2 (F305)
- James Cunningham – “At the Frontiers of Science and Research Commercialisation: Why Scientists Become or Choose to Become a Publicly Funded Principal Investigators”

17:30 Closing Remarks (F103)

19:30 Evening: Dinner at ‘Le 5’
Tuesday 27th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome Back (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

09:30 Session 3

Session 3.1 (F103)
- Conor O’Kane – “Translating publicly funded science: an examination of principal investigator – technology transfer office interactions”
- Corine Genet & Vincent Mangematin – “What remains in academia lab when entrepreneurs have left?”

Session 3.2 (F305)
- Maria Kim, Elisabeth Krull & Kenneth Husted – “Commercial practices for developing commercial orientation of PhD students”
- Nicolas Battard & Christelle Robin – “Transformation of the role of scientists: The rise of project-based organising in science”
- Will Geoghegan, Paul Ryan & Rachel Hilliard – “The Innovative Capabilities that Firms Develop from University/Industry Collaboration”

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 4 (F103)
- Georg Reischauer – “Versatile Boundaries: Managing the Integration of Triple Helix Organizations”

17:00 Closing Remarks
PROGRAM
Micro-foundations of the Triple Helix Workshop

Monday, 26th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

10:00 Session 1

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 2
Sessions 2 and 3 will be broken up into two groups which will run in parallel.

Session 2.1 (F103)
- Yipeng Liu & Qihai Huang – “University capability as micro-foundation for Triple Helix model: Cultivating university capability or attracting talent?”
- Marina van Geenhuizen – “User Groups as Partners in Triple Helix Interaction: The Case of Living Labs in Health Innovation”
- Séverine Louvel – “Principal Investigators’ capacity to act as scientific entrepreneurs: intended and unintended consequences of science policy under the Triple Helix”

Session 2.2 (F305)
- James Cunningham – “At the Frontiers of Science and Research Commercialisation: Why Scientists Become or Choose to Become a Publicly Funded Principal Investigators”

17:30 Closing Remarks (F103)

19:30 Evening: Dinner at ‘Le 5’
Tuesday 27th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome Back (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

09:30 Session 3

Session 3.1 (F103)
- Conor O’Kane – “Translating publicly funded science: an examination of principal investigator – technology transfer office interactions”
- Corine Genet & Vincent Mangematin – “What remains in academia lab when entrepreneurs have left?”

Session 3.2 (F305)
- Maria Kim, Elisabeth Krull & Kenneth Husted – “Commercial practices for developing commercial orientation of PhD students”
- Nicolas Battard & Christelle Robin – “Transformation of the role of scientists: The rise of project-based organising in science”
- Will Geoghegan, Paul Ryan & Rachel Hilliard – “The Innovative Capabilities that Firms Develop from University/Industry Collaboration”

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 4 (F103)
- Georg Reischauer – “Versatile Boundaries: Managing the Integration of Triple Helix Organizations”

17:00 Closing Remarks
08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

10:00 Session 1

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 2
Sessions 2 and 3 will be broken up into two groups which will run in parallel.

Session 2.1 (F103)
- Yipeng Liu & Qihai Huang – “University capability as micro-foundation for Triple Helix model: Cultivating university capability or attracting talent?”
- Marina van Geenhuizen – “User Groups as Partners in Triple Helix Interaction: The Case of Living Labs in Health Innovation”
- Séverine Louvel – “Principal Investigators’ capacity to act as scientific entrepreneurs: intended and unintended consequences of science policy under the Triple Helix”

Session 2.2 (F305)
- James Cunningham – “At the Frontiers of Science and Research Commercialisation: Why Scientists Become or Choose to Become a Publicly Funded Principal Investigators”

17:30 Closing Remarks (F103)

19:30 Evening: Dinner at ‘Le 5’
Tuesday 27th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome Back (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

09:30 Session 3

Session 3.1 (F103)
- Conor O’Kane – “Translating publicly funded science: an examination of principal investigator – technology transfer office interactions”
- Corine Genet & Vincent Mangematin – “What remains in academia lab when entrepreneurs have left?”

Session 3.2 (F305)
- Maria Kim, Elisabeth Krull & Kenneth Husted – “Commercial practices for developing commercial orientation of PhD students”
- Nicolas Battard & Christelle Robin – “Transformation of the role of scientists: The rise of project-based organising in science”
- Will Geoghegan, Paul Ryan & Rachel Hilliard – “The Innovative Capabilities that Firms Develop from University/ Industry Collaboration”

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 4 (F103)
- Georg Reischauer – “Versatile Boundaries: Managing the Integration of Triple Helix Organizations”

17:00 Closing Remarks
PROGRAM
Micro-foundations of the Triple Helix Workshop

Monday, 26th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

10:00 Session 1

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 2
Sessions 2 and 3 will be broken up into two groups which will run in parallel.

Session 2.1 (F103)
- Yipeng Liu & Qihai Huang – “University capability as micro-foundation for Triple Helix model: Cultivating university capability or attracting talent?”
- Marina van Geenhuizen – “User Groups as Partners in Triple Helix Interaction: The Case of Living Labs in Health Innovation”
- Séverine Louvel – “Principal Investigators’ capacity to act as scientific entrepreneurs: intended and unintended consequences of science policy under the Triple Helix”

Session 2.2 (F305)
- James Cunningham – “At the Frontiers of Science and Research Commercialisation: Why Scientists Become or Choose to Become a Publicly Funded Principal Investigators”

17:30 Closing Remarks (F103)

19:30 Evening: Dinner at ‘Le 5’
Tuesday 27\textsuperscript{th} May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome Back (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

09:30 Session 3

Session 3.1 (F103)

- Conor O’Kane – “Translating publicly funded science: an examination of principal investigator – technology transfer office interactions”
- Corine Genet & Vincent Mangematin – “What remains in academia lab when entrepreneurs have left?”

Session 3.2 (F305)

- Maria Kim, Elisabeth Krull & Kenneth Husted – “Commercial practices for developing commercial orientation of PhD students”
- Nicolas Battard & Christelle Robin – “Transformation of the role of scientists: The rise of project-based organising in science”
- Will Geoghegan, Paul Ryan & Rachel Hilliard – “The Innovative Capabilities that Firms Develop from University/ Industry Collaboration”

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 4 (F103)

- Georg Reischauer – “Versatile Boundaries: Managing the Integration of Triple Helix Organizations”

17:00 Closing Remarks
PROGRAM
Micro-foundations of the Triple Helix Workshop

Monday, 26th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

10:00 Session 1

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 2
Sessions 2 and 3 will be broken up into two groups which will run in parallel.

Session 2.1 (F103)
- Yipeng Liu & Qihai Huang – “University capability as micro-foundation for Triple Helix model: Cultivating university capability or attracting talent?”
- Marina van Geenhuizen – “User Groups as Partners in Triple Helix Interaction: The Case of Living Labs in Health Innovation”
- Séverine Louvel – “Principal Investigators’ capacity to act as scientific entrepreneurs: intended and unintended consequences of science policy under the Triple Helix”

Session 2.2 (F305)
- James Cunningham – “At the Frontiers of Science and Research Commercialisation: Why Scientists Become or Choose to Become a Publicly Funded Principal Investigators”

17:30 Closing Remarks (F103)

19:30 Evening: Dinner at ‘Le 5’
Tuesday 27th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome Back (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

09:30 Session 3

Session 3.1 (F103)

- Conor O’Kane – “Translating publicly funded science: an examination of principal investigator – technology transfer office interactions”
- Corine Genet & Vincent Mangematin – “What remains in academia lab when entrepreneurs have left?”

Session 3.2 (F305)

- Maria Kim, Elisabeth Krull & Kenneth Husted – “Commercial practices for developing commercial orientation of PhD students”
- Nicolas Battard & Christelle Robin – “Transformation of the role of scientists: The rise of project-based organising in science”
- Will Geoghegan, Paul Ryan & Rachel Hilliard – “The Innovative Capabilities that Firms Develop from University/ Industry Collaboration”

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 4 (F103)

- Georg Reischauer – “Versatile Boundaries: Managing the Integration of Triple Helix Organizations”

17:00 Closing Remarks
PROGRAM

Micro-foundations of the Triple Helix Workshop

Monday, 26th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

10:00 Session 1

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 2
Sessions 2 and 3 will be broken up into two groups which will run in parallel.

Session 2.1 (F103)
  ❖ Yipeng Liu & Qihai Huang – “University capability as micro-foundation for Triple Helix model: Cultivating university capability or attracting talent?”
  ❖ Marina van Geenhuizen – “User Groups as Partners in Triple Helix Interaction: The Case of Living Labs in Health Innovation”
  ❖ Séverine Louvel – “Principal Investigators’ capacity to act as scientific entrepreneurs: intended and unintended consequences of science policy under the Triple Helix”

Session 2.2 (F305)
  ❖ James Cunningham – “At the Frontiers of Science and Research Commercialisation: Why Scientists Become or Choose to Become a Publicly Funded Principal Investigators”

17:30 Closing Remarks (F103)

19:30 Evening: Dinner at ‘Le 5’
Tuesday 27th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome Back (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

09:30 Session 3

Session 3.1 (F103)
- Conor O’Kane – “Translating publicly funded science: an examination of principal investigator – technology transfer office interactions”
- Corine Genet & Vincent Mangematin – “What remains in academia lab when entrepreneurs have left?”

Session 3.2 (F305)
- Maria Kim, Elisabeth Krull & Kenneth Husted – “Commercial practices for developing commercial orientation of PhD students”
- Nicolas Battard & Christelle Robin – “Transformation of the role of scientists: The rise of project-based organising in science”
- Will Geoghegan, Paul Ryan & Rachel Hilliard – “The Innovative Capabilities that Firms Develop from University/Industry Collaboration”

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 4 (F103)
- Georg Reischauer – “Versatile Boundaries: Managing the Integration of Triple Helix Organizations”

17:00 Closing Remarks
Monday, 26th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

10:00 Session 1

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 2
Sessions 2 and 3 will be broken up into two groups which will run in parallel.

Session 2.1 (F103)
- Yipeng Liu & Qihai Huang – “University capability as micro-foundation for Triple Helix model: Cultivating university capability or attracting talent?”
- Marina van Geenhuizen – “User Groups as Partners in Triple Helix Interaction: The Case of Living Labs in Health Innovation”
- Séverine Louvel – “Principal Investigators’ capacity to act as scientific entrepreneurs: intended and unintended consequences of science policy under the Triple Helix”

Session 2.2 (F305)
- James Cunningham – “At the Frontiers of Science and Research Commercialisation: Why Scientists Become or Choose to Become a Publicly Funded Principal Investigators”

17:30 Closing Remarks (F103)

19:30 Evening: Dinner at ‘Le 5’
Tuesday 27th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome Back (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

09:30 Session 3

Session 3.1 (F103)

- Conor O’Kane – “Translating publicly funded science: an examination of principal investigator – technology transfer office interactions”
- Corine Genet & Vincent Mangematin – “What remains in academia lab when entrepreneurs have left?”

Session 3.2 (F305)

- Maria Kim, Elisabeth Krull & Kenneth Husted – “Commercial practices for developing commercial orientation of PhD students”
- Nicolas Battard & Christelle Robin – “Transformation of the role of scientists: The rise of project-based organising in science”
- Will Geoghegan, Paul Ryan & Rachel Hilliard – “The Innovative Capabilities that Firms Develop from University/ Industry Collaboration”

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 4 (F103)

- Georg Reischauer – “Versatile Boundaries: Managing the Integration of Triple Helix Organizations”

17:00 Closing Remarks
PROGRAM
Micro-foundations of the Triple Helix Workshop

Monday, 26th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

10:00 Session 1

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 2
Sessions 2 and 3 will be broken up into two groups which will run in parallel.

Session 2.1 (F103)
- Yipeng Liu & Qihai Huang – “University capability as micro-foundation for Triple Helix model: Cultivating university capability or attracting talent?”
- Marina van Geenhuizen – “User Groups as Partners in Triple Helix Interaction: The Case of Living Labs in Health Innovation”
- Séverine Louvel – “Principal Investigators’ capacity to act as scientific entrepreneurs: intended and unintended consequences of science policy under the Triple Helix”

Session 2.2 (F305)
- James Cunningham – “At the Frontiers of Science and Research Commercialisation: Why Scientists Become or Choose to Become a Publicly Funded Principal Investigators”

17:30 Closing Remarks (F103)

19:30 Evening: Dinner at ‘Le 5’
Tuesday 27th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome Back (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

09:30 Session 3

Session 3.1 (F103)
- Conor O’Kane – “Translating publicly funded science: an examination of principal investigator – technology transfer office interactions”
- Corine Genet & Vincent Mangematin – “What remains in academia lab when entrepreneurs have left?”

Session 3.2 (F305)
- Maria Kim, Elisabeth Krull & Kenneth Husted – “Commercial practices for developing commercial orientation of PhD students”
- Nicolas Battard & Christelle Robin – “Transformation of the role of scientists: The rise of project-based organising in science”
- Will Geoghegan, Paul Ryan & Rachel Hilliard – “The Innovative Capabilities that Firms Develop from University/ Industry Collaboration”

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 4 (F103)
- Georg Reischauer – “Versatile Boundaries: Managing the Integration of Triple Helix Organizations”

17:00 Closing Remarks
PROGRAM
Micro-foundations of the Triple Helix Workshop

Monday, 26\textsuperscript{th} May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

10:00 Session 1

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 2
Sessions 2 and 3 will be broken up into two groups which will run in parallel.

Session 2.1 (F103)
- Yipeng Liu & Qihai Huang – “University capability as micro-foundation for Triple Helix model: Cultivating university capability or attracting talent?”
- Marina van Geenhuizen – “User Groups as Partners in Triple Helix Interaction: The Case of Living Labs in Health Innovation”
- Séverine Louvel – “Principal Investigators’ capacity to act as scientific entrepreneurs: intended and unintended consequences of science policy under the Triple Helix”

Session 2.2 (F305)
- James Cunningham – “At the Frontiers of Science and Research Commercialisation: Why Scientists Become or Choose to Become a Publicly Funded Principal Investigators”

17:30 Closing Remarks (F103)

19:30 Evening: Dinner at ‘Le 5’
Tuesday 27th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome Back (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

09:30 Session 3

Session 3.1 (F103)
- Conor O’Kane – “Translating publicly funded science: an examination of principal investigator – technology transfer office interactions”
- Corine Genet & Vincent Mangematin – “What remains in academia lab when entrepreneurs have left?”

Session 3.2 (F305)
- Maria Kim, Elisabeth Krull & Kenneth Husted – “Commercial practices for developing commercial orientation of PhD students”
- Nicolas Battard & Christelle Robin – “Transformation of the role of scientists: The rise of project-based organising in science”
- Will Geoghegan, Paul Ryan & Rachel Hilliard – “The Innovative Capabilities that Firms Develop from University/Industry Collaboration”

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 4 (F103)
- Georg Reischauer – “Versatile Boundaries: Managing the Integration of Triple Helix Organizations”

17:00 Closing Remarks
PROGRAM
Micro-foundations of the Triple Helix Workshop

Monday, 26th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

10:00 Session 1

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 2
Sessions 2 and 3 will be broken up into two groups which will run in parallel.

Session 2.1 (F103)
- Yipeng Liu & Qihai Huang – “University capability as micro-foundation for Triple Helix model: Cultivating university capability or attracting talent?”
- Marina van Geenhuizen – “User Groups as Partners in Triple Helix Interaction: The Case of Living Labs in Health Innovation”
- Séverine Louvel – “Principal Investigators’ capacity to act as scientific entrepreneurs: intended and unintended consequences of science policy under the Triple Helix”

Session 2.2 (F305)
- James Cunningham – “At the Frontiers of Science and Research Commercialisation: Why Scientists Become or Choose to Become a Publicly Funded Principal Investigators”

17:30 Closing Remarks (F103)

19:30 Evening: Dinner at ‘Le 5’
Tuesday 27th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome Back (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

09:30 Session 3

Session 3.1 (F103)

- Conor O’Kane – “Translating publicly funded science: an examination of principal investigator – technology transfer office interactions”
- Corine Genet & Vincent Mangematin – “What remains in academia lab when entrepreneurs have left?”

Session 3.2 (F305)

- Maria Kim, Elisabeth Krull & Kenneth Husted – “Commercial practices for developing commercial orientation of PhD students”
- Nicolas Battard & Christelle Robin – “Transformation of the role of scientists: The rise of project-based organising in science”
- Will Geoghegan, Paul Ryan & Rachel Hilliard – “The Innovative Capabilities that Firms Develop from University/ Industry Collaboration”

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 4 (F103)

- Georg Reischauer – “Versatile Boundaries: Managing the Integration of Triple Helix Organizations”

17:00 Closing Remarks
Monday, 26th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

10:00 Session 1

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 2
Sessions 2 and 3 will be broken up into two groups which will run in parallel.

Session 2.1 (F103)
- Yipeng Liu & Qihai Huang – “University capability as micro-foundation for Triple Helix model: Cultivating university capability or attracting talent?”
- Marina van Geenhuizen – “User Groups as Partners in Triple Helix Interaction: The Case of Living Labs in Health Innovation”
- Séverine Louvel – “Principal Investigators’ capacity to act as scientific entrepreneurs: intended and unintended consequences of science policy under the Triple Helix”

Session 2.2 (F305)
- James Cunningham – “At the Frontiers of Science and Research Commercialisation: Why Scientists Become or Choose to Become a Publicly Funded Principal Investigators”

17:30 Closing Remarks (F103)

19:30 Evening: Dinner at ‘Le 5’
Tuesday 27\textsuperscript{th} May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome Back (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

09:30 Session 3

Session 3.1 (F103)
- Conor O’Kane – “Translating publicly funded science: an examination of principal investigator – technology transfer office interactions”
- Corine Genet & Vincent Mangematin – “What remains in academia lab when entrepreneurs have left?”

Session 3.2 (F305)
- Maria Kim, Elisabeth Krull & Kenneth Husted – “Commercial practices for developing commercial orientation of PhD students”
- Nicolas Battard & Christelle Robin – “Transformation of the role of scientists: The rise of project-based organising in science”
- Will Geoghegan, Paul Ryan & Rachel Hilliard – “The Innovative Capabilities that Firms Develop from University/Industry Collaboration”

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 4 (F103)
- Georg Reischauer – “Versatile Boundaries: Managing the Integration of Triple Helix Organizations”

17:00 Closing Remarks
PROGRAM
Micro-foundations of the Triple Helix Workshop

Monday, 26th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

10:00 Session 1

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 2
Sessions 2 and 3 will be broken up into two groups which will run in parallel.

Session 2.1 (F103)
- Yipeng Liu & Qihai Huang – “University capability as micro-foundation for Triple Helix model: Cultivating university capability or attracting talent?”
- Marina van Geenhuizen – “User Groups as Partners in Triple Helix Interaction: The Case of Living Labs in Health Innovation”
- Séverine Louvel – “Principal Investigators’ capacity to act as scientific entrepreneurs: intended and unintended consequences of science policy under the Triple Helix”

Session 2.2 (F305)
- James Cunningham – “At the Frontiers of Science and Research Commercialisation: Why Scientists Become or Choose to Become a Publicly Funded Principal Investigators”

17:30 Closing Remarks (F103)

19:30 Evening: Dinner at ‘Le 5’
Tuesday 27th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome Back (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

09:30 Session 3

Session 3.1 (F103)

- Conor O’Kane – “Translating publicly funded science: an examination of principal investigator – technology transfer office interactions”
- Corine Genet & Vincent Mangematin – “What remains in academia lab when entrepreneurs have left?”

Session 3.2 (F305)

- Maria Kim, Elisabeth Krull & Kenneth Husted – “Commercial practices for developing commercial orientation of PhD students”
- Nicolas Battard & Christelle Robin – “Transformation of the role of scientists: The rise of project-based organising in science”
- Will Geoghegan, Paul Ryan & Rachel Hilliard – “The Innovative Capabilities that Firms Develop from University/Industry Collaboration”

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 4 (F103)

- Georg Reischauer – “Versatile Boundaries: Managing the Integration of Triple Helix Organizations”

17:00 Closing Remarks
PROGRAM
Micro-foundations of the Triple Helix Workshop

Monday, 26th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

10:00 Session 1

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 2
Sessions 2 and 3 will be broken up into two groups which will run in parallel.

Session 2.1 (F103)
  ❖ Yipeng Liu & Qihai Huang – “University capability as micro-foundation for Triple Helix model: Cultivating university capability or attracting talent?”
  ❖ Marina van Geenhuizen – “User Groups as Partners in Triple Helix Interaction: The Case of Living Labs in Health Innovation”
  ❖ Séverine Louvel – “Principal Investigators’ capacity to act as scientific entrepreneurs: intended and unintended consequences of science policy under the Triple Helix”

Session 2.2 (F305)
  ❖ James Cunningham – “At the Frontiers of Science and Research Commercialisation: Why Scientists Become or Choose to Become a Publicly Funded Principal Investigators”

17:30 Closing Remarks (F103)

19:30 Evening: Dinner at ‘Le 5’
Tuesday 27th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome Back (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

09:30 Session 3
Session 3.1 (F103)

- Conor O’Kane – “Translating publicly funded science: an examination of principal investigator – technology transfer office interactions”
- Corine Genet & Vincent Mangematin – “What remains in academia lab when entrepreneurs have left?”

Session 3.2 (F305)

- Maria Kim, Elisabeth Krull & Kenneth Husted – “Commercial practices for developing commercial orientation of PhD students”
- Nicolas Battard & Christelle Robin – “Transformation of the role of scientists: The rise of project-based organising in science”
- Will Geoghegan, Paul Ryan & Rachel Hilliard – “The Innovative Capabilities that Firms Develop from University/Industry Collaboration”

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 4 (F103)

- Georg Reischauer – “Versatile Boundaries: Managing the Integration of Triple Helix Organizations”

17:00 Closing Remarks
PROGRAM
Micro-foundations of the Triple Helix Workshop

Monday, 26th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

10:00 Session 1

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 2
Sessions 2 and 3 will be broken up into two groups which will run in parallel.

Session 2.1 (F103)
- Yipeng Liu & Qihai Huang – “University capability as micro-foundation for Triple Helix model: Cultivating university capability or attracting talent?”
- Marina van Geenhuizen – “User Groups as Partners in Triple Helix Interaction: The Case of Living Labs in Health Innovation”
- Séverine Louvel – “Principal Investigators’ capacity to act as scientific entrepreneurs: intended and unintended consequences of science policy under the Triple Helix”

Session 2.2 (F305)
- James Cunningham – “At the Frontiers of Science and Research Commercialisation: Why Scientists Become or Choose to Become a Publicly Funded Principal Investigators”

17:30 Closing Remarks (F103)

19:30 Evening: Dinner at ‘Le 5’
Tuesday 27th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome Back (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

09:30 Session 3

Session 3.1 (F103)

- Conor O’Kane – “Translating publicly funded science: an examination of principal investigator – technology transfer office interactions”
- Corine Genet & Vincent Mangematin – “What remains in academia lab when entrepreneurs have left?”

Session 3.2 (F305)

- Maria Kim, Elisabeth Krull & Kenneth Husted – “Commercial practices for developing commercial orientation of PhD students”
- Nicolas Battard & Christelle Robin – “Transformation of the role of scientists: The rise of project-based organising in science”
- Will Geoghegan, Paul Ryan & Rachel Hilliard – “The Innovative Capabilities that Firms Develop from University/ Industry Collaboration”

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 4 (F103)

- Georg Reischauer – “Versatile Boundaries: Managing the Integration of Triple Helix Organizations”

17:00 Closing Remarks
Monday, 26th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

10:00 Session 1

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 2
Sessions 2 and 3 will be broken up into two groups which will run in parallel.

Session 2.1 (F103)
- Yipeng Liu & Qihai Huang – “University capability as micro-foundation for Triple Helix model: Cultivating university capability or attracting talent?”
- Marina van Geenhuizen – “User Groups as Partners in Triple Helix Interaction: The Case of Living Labs in Health Innovation”
- Séverine Louvel – “Principal Investigators’ capacity to act as scientific entrepreneurs: intended and unintended consequences of science policy under the Triple Helix”

Session 2.2 (F305)
- James Cunningham – “At the Frontiers of Science and Research Commercialisation: Why Scientists Become or Choose to Become a Publicly Funded Principal Investigators”

17:30 Closing Remarks (F103)

19:30 Evening: Dinner at ‘Le 5’
Tuesday 27th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome Back (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

09:30 Session 3

Session 3.1 (F103)

- Conor O’Kane – “Translating publicly funded science: an examination of principal investigator – technology transfer office interactions”
- Corine Genet & Vincent Mangematin – “What remains in academia lab when entrepreneurs have left?”

Session 3.2 (F305)

- Maria Kim, Elisabeth Krull & Kenneth Husted – “Commercial practices for developing commercial orientation of PhD students”
- Nicolas Battard & Christelle Robin – “Transformation of the role of scientists: The rise of project-based organising in science”
- Will Geoghegan, Paul Ryan & Rachel Hilliard – “The Innovative Capabilities that Firms Develop from University/ Industry Collaboration”

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 4 (F103)

- Georg Reischauer – “Versatile Boundaries: Managing the Integration of Triple Helix Organizations”

17:00 Closing Remarks
PROGRAM
Micro-foundations of the Triple Helix Workshop

Monday, 26th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

10:00 Session 1

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 2
Sessions 2 and 3 will be broken up into two groups which will run in parallel.

Session 2.1 (F103)
- Yipeng Liu & Qihai Huang – “University capability as micro-foundation for Triple Helix model: Cultivating university capability or attracting talent?”
- Marina van Geenhuizen – “User Groups as Partners in Triple Helix Interaction: The Case of Living Labs in Health Innovation”
- Séverine Louvel – “Principal Investigators’ capacity to act as scientific entrepreneurs: intended and unintended consequences of science policy under the Triple Helix”

Session 2.2 (F305)
- James Cunningham – “At the Frontiers of Science and Research Commercialisation: Why Scientists Become or Choose to Become a Publicly Funded Principal Investigators”

17:30 Closing Remarks (F103)

19:30 Evening: Dinner at ‘Le 5’
Tuesday 27th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome Back (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

09:30 Session 3

Session 3.1 (F103)
- Conor O’Kane – “Translating publicly funded science: an examination of principal investigator – technology transfer office interactions”
- Corine Genet & Vincent Mangematin – “What remains in academia lab when entrepreneurs have left?”

Session 3.2 (F305)
- Maria Kim, Elisabeth Krull & Kenneth Husted – “Commercial practices for developing commercial orientation of PhD students”
- Nicolas Battard & Christelle Robin – “Transformation of the role of scientists: The rise of project-based organising in science”
- Will Geoghegan, Paul Ryan & Rachel Hilliard – “The Innovative Capabilities that Firms Develop from University/Industry Collaboration”

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 4 (F103)
- Georg Reischauer – “Versatile Boundaries: Managing the Integration of Triple Helix Organizations”

17:00 Closing Remarks
PROGRAM
Micro-foundations of the Triple Helix Workshop

Monday, 26th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

10:00 Session 1

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 2
Sessions 2 and 3 will be broken up into two groups which will run in parallel.

Session 2.1 (F103)
- Yipeng Liu & Qihai Huang – “University capability as micro-foundation for Triple Helix model: Cultivating university capability or attracting talent?”
- Marina van Geenhuizen – “User Groups as Partners in Triple Helix Interaction: The Case of Living Labs in Health Innovation”
- Séverine Louvel – “Principal Investigators’ capacity to act as scientific entrepreneurs: intended and unintended consequences of science policy under the Triple Helix”

Session 2.2 (F305)
- James Cunningham – “At the Frontiers of Science and Research Commercialisation: Why Scientists Become or Choose to Become a Publicly Funded Principal Investigators”

17:30 Closing Remarks (F103)

19:30 Evening: Dinner at ‘Le 5’
Tuesday 27th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome Back (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

09:30 Session 3

Session 3.1 (F103)
- Conor O’Kane – “Translating publicly funded science: an examination of principal investigator – technology transfer office interactions”
- Corine Genet & Vincent Mangematin – “What remains in academia lab when entrepreneurs have left?”

Session 3.2 (F305)
- Maria Kim, Elisabeth Krull & Kenneth Husted – “Commercial practices for developing commercial orientation of PhD students”
- Nicolas Battard & Christelle Robin – “Transformation of the role of scientists: The rise of project-based organising in science”
- Will Geoghegan, Paul Ryan & Rachel Hilliard – “The Innovative Capabilities that Firms Develop from University/ Industry Collaboration”

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 4 (F103)
- Georg Reischauer – “Versatile Boundaries: Managing the Integration of Triple Helix Organizations”

17:00 Closing Remarks
PROGRAM
Micro-foundations of the Triple Helix Workshop

Monday, 26th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

10:00 Session 1

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 2
Sessions 2 and 3 will be broken up into two groups which will run in parallel.

Session 2.1 (F103)
- Yipeng Liu & Qihai Huang – “University capability as micro-foundation for Triple Helix model: Cultivating university capability or attracting talent?”
- Marina van Geenhuizen – “User Groups as Partners in Triple Helix Interaction: The Case of Living Labs in Health Innovation”
- Séverine Louvel – “Principal Investigators’ capacity to act as scientific entrepreneurs: intended and unintended consequences of science policy under the Triple Helix”

Session 2.2 (F305)
- James Cunningham – “At the Frontiers of Science and Research Commercialisation: Why Scientists Become or Choose to Become a Publicly Funded Principal Investigators”

17:30 Closing Remarks (F103)

19:30 Evening: Dinner at ‘Le 5’
Tuesday 27th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome Back (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

09:30 Session 3

Session 3.1 (F103)

- Conor O’Kane – “Translating publicly funded science: an examination of principal investigator – technology transfer office interactions”
- Corine Genet & Vincent Mangematin – “What remains in academia lab when entrepreneurs have left?”

Session 3.2 (F305)

- Maria Kim, Elisabeth Krull & Kenneth Husted – “Commercial practices for developing commercial orientation of PhD students”
- Nicolas Battard & Christelle Robin – “Transformation of the role of scientists: The rise of project-based organising in science”
- Will Geoghegan, Paul Ryan & Rachel Hilliard – “The Innovative Capabilities that Firms Develop from University/Industry Collaboration”

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 4 (F103)

- Georg Reischauer – “Versatile Boundaries: Managing the Integration of Triple Helix Organizations”

17:00 Closing Remarks
08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)
09:00 Welcome (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

10:00 Session 1

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 2
Sessions 2 and 3 will be broken up into two groups which will run in parallel.

Session 2.1 (F103)
- Yipeng Liu & Qihai Huang – “University capability as micro-foundation for Triple Helix model: Cultivating university capability or attracting talent?”
- Marina van Geenhuizen – “User Groups as Partners in Triple Helix Interaction: The Case of Living Labs in Health Innovation”
- Séverine Louvel – “Principal Investigators’ capacity to act as scientific entrepreneurs: intended and unintended consequences of science policy under the Triple Helix”

Session 2.2 (F305)
- James Cunningham – “At the Frontiers of Science and Research Commercialisation: Why Scientists Become or Choose to Become a Publicly Funded Principal Investigators”

17:30 Closing Remarks (F103)

19:30 Evening: Dinner at ‘Le 5’
Tuesday 27\textsuperscript{th} May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome Back (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

09:30 Session 3
     Session 3.1 (F103)
     • Daniela Baglieri, Francesco Baldi & Christopher L. Tucci – “How Different are Universities in Technology Commercialization? Institutional Logics and Multi-Sided Business Models”
     • Conor O’Kane – “Translating publicly funded science: an examination of principal investigator – technology transfer office interactions”
     • Corine Genet & Vincent Mangematin – “What remains in academia lab when entrepreneurs have left?”

     Session 3.2 (F305)
     • Maria Kim, Elisabeth Krull & Kenneth Husted – “Commercial practices for developing commercial orientation of PhD students”
     • Nicolas Battard & Christelle Robin – “Transformation of the role of scientists: The rise of project-based organising in science”
     • Will Geoghegan, Paul Ryan & Rachel Hilliard – “The Innovative Capabilities that Firms Develop from University/Industry Collaboration”

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 4 (F103)
    • Georg Reischauer – “Versatile Boundaries: Managing the Integration of Triple Helix Organizations”

17:00 Closing Remarks
Monday, 26th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

10:00 Session 1

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 2
Sessions 2 and 3 will be broken up into two groups which will run in parallel.

Session 2.1 (F103)
- Yipeng Liu & Qihai Huang – “University capability as micro-foundation for Triple Helix model: Cultivating university capability or attracting talent?”
- Marina van Geenhuizen – “User Groups as Partners in Triple Helix Interaction: The Case of Living Labs in Health Innovation”
- Séverine Louvel – “Principal Investigators’ capacity to act as scientific entrepreneurs: intended and unintended consequences of science policy under the Triple Helix”

Session 2.2 (F305)
- James Cunningham – “At the Frontiers of Science and Research Commercialisation: Why Scientists Become or Choose to Become a Publicly Funded Principal Investigators”

17:30 Closing Remarks (F103)

19:30 Evening: Dinner at ‘Le 5’
Tuesday 27th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome Back (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

09:30 Session 3

Session 3.1 (F103)
- Conor O’Kane – “Translating publicly funded science: an examination of principal investigator – technology transfer office interactions”
- Corine Genet & Vincent Mangematin – “What remains in academia lab when entrepreneurs have left?”

Session 3.2 (F305)
- Maria Kim, Elisabeth Krull & Kenneth Husted – “Commercial practices for developing commercial orientation of PhD students”
- Nicolas Battard & Christelle Robin – “Transformation of the role of scientists: The rise of project-based organising in science”
- Will Geoghegan, Paul Ryan & Rachel Hilliard – “The Innovative Capabilities that Firms Develop from University/Industry Collaboration”

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 4 (F103)
- Georg Reischauer – “Versatile Boundaries: Managing the Integration of Triple Helix Organizations”

17:00 Closing Remarks
PROGRAM
Micro-foundations of the Triple Helix Workshop

Monday, 26th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

10:00 Session 1

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 2
Sessions 2 and 3 will be broken up into two groups which will run in parallel.

Session 2.1 (F103)
  ❖ Yipeng Liu & Qihai Huang – “University capability as micro-foundation for Triple Helix model: Cultivating university capability or attracting talent?”
  ❖ Marina van Geenhuizen – “User Groups as Partners in Triple Helix Interaction: The Case of Living Labs in Health Innovation”
  ❖ Séverine Louvel – “Principal Investigators’ capacity to act as scientific entrepreneurs: intended and unintended consequences of science policy under the Triple Helix”

Session 2.2 (F305)
  ❖ James Cunningham – “At the Frontiers of Science and Research Commercialisation: Why Scientists Become or Choose to Become a Publicly Funded Principal Investigators”

17:30 Closing Remarks (F103)

19:30 Evening: Dinner at ‘Le 5’
Tuesday 27th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome Back (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

09:30 Session 3
Session 3.1 (F103)
- Conor O’Kane – “Translating publicly funded science: an examination of principal investigator – technology transfer office interactions”
- Corine Genet & Vincent Mangematin – “What remains in academia lab when entrepreneurs have left?”

Session 3.2 (F305)
- Maria Kim, Elisabeth Krull & Kenneth Husted – “Commercial practices for developing commercial orientation of PhD students”
- Nicolas Battard & Christelle Robin – “Transformation of the role of scientists: The rise of project-based organising in science”
- Will Geoghegan, Paul Ryan & Rachel Hilliard – “The Innovative Capabilities that Firms Develop from University/ Industry Collaboration”

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 4 (F103)
- Georg Reischauer – “Versatile Boundaries: Managing the Integration of Triple Helix Organizations”

17:00 Closing Remarks
PROGRAM
Micro-foundations of the Triple Helix Workshop

Monday, 26th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

10:00 Session 1

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 2
Sessions 2 and 3 will be broken up into two groups which will run in parallel.

Session 2.1 (F103)
  ❖ Yipeng Liu & Qihai Huang – “University capability as micro-foundation for Triple Helix model: Cultivating university capability or attracting talent?”
  ❖ Marina van Geenhuizen – “User Groups as Partners in Triple Helix Interaction: The Case of Living Labs in Health Innovation”
  ❖ Séverine Louvel – “Principal Investigators’ capacity to act as scientific entrepreneurs: intended and unintended consequences of science policy under the Triple Helix”

Session 2.2 (F305)
  ❖ James Cunningham – “At the Frontiers of Science and Research Commercialisation: Why Scientists Become or Choose to Become a Publicly Funded Principal Investigators”

17:30 Closing Remarks (F103)

19:30 Evening: Dinner at ‘Le 5’
Tuesday 27th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome Back (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

09:30 Session 3

Session 3.1 (F103)
- Conor O’Kane – “Translating publicly funded science: an examination of principal investigator – technology transfer office interactions”
- Corine Genet & Vincent Mangematin – “What remains in academia lab when entrepreneurs have left?”

Session 3.2 (F305)
- Maria Kim, Elisabeth Krull & Kenneth Husted – “Commercial practices for developing commercial orientation of PhD students”
- Nicolas Battard & Christelle Robin – “Transformation of the role of scientists: The rise of project-based organising in science”
- Will Geoghegan, Paul Ryan & Rachel Hilliard – “The Innovative Capabilities that Firms Develop from University/Industry Collaboration”

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 4 (F103)
- Georg Reischauer – “Versatile Boundaries: Managing the Integration of Triple Helix Organizations”

17:00 Closing Remarks
Monday, 26th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

10:00 Session 1

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 2
Sessions 2 and 3 will be broken up into two groups which will run in parallel.

Session 2.1 (F103)
- Yipeng Liu & Qihai Huang – “University capability as micro-foundation for Triple Helix model: Cultivating university capability or attracting talent?”
- Marina van Geenhuizen – “User Groups as Partners in Triple Helix Interaction: The Case of Living Labs in Health Innovation”
- Séverine Louvel – “Principal Investigators’ capacity to act as scientific entrepreneurs: intended and unintended consequences of science policy under the Triple Helix”

Session 2.2 (F305)
- James Cunningham – “At the Frontiers of Science and Research Commercialisation: Why Scientists Become or Choose to Become a Publicly Funded Principal Investigators”

17:30 Closing Remarks (F103)

19:30 Evening: Dinner at ‘Le 5’
Tuesday 27th May

08:30 Coffee-morning (F103)

09:00 Welcome Back (F103)
Vincent Mangematin and Henry Etzkowitz

09:30 Session 3

Session 3.1 (F103)
- Conor O’Kane – “Translating publicly funded science: an examination of principal investigator – technology transfer office interactions”
- Corine Genet & Vincent Mangematin – “What remains in academia lab when entrepreneurs have left?”

Session 3.2 (F305)
- Maria Kim, Elisabeth Krull & Kenneth Husted – “Commercial practices for developing commercial orientation of PhD students”
- Nicolas Battard & Christelle Robin – “Transformation of the role of scientists: The rise of project-based organising in science”
- Will Geoghegan, Paul Ryan & Rachel Hilliard – “The Innovative Capabilities that Firms Develop from University/Industry Collaboration”

13:00 Lunch (F103)
Provided by GEM

14:00 Session 4 (F103)
- Georg Reischauer – “Versatile Boundaries: Managing the Integration of Triple Helix Organizations”

17:00 Closing Remarks